

With all that snow that had fallen during the night, to spend the school break inside it would have been a shame!

After a few minutes spent outside playing football, the ball rolled near the gate: it was her turn now to take it.

When she went to get back the ball, she realized that there was something sharp coming out the snow: it was the letter A with the accent. Shivering, she took it with two fingers and shaking it she realized that it was part of the word TRAIUUA!.

The following day, in the school library, there would be the awarding of the most original Advent calendar. They had worked a lot and they were happy of their work: a very big wooden doll.

She had the number ONE written on her belly; she was heavy and when you shook her you could hear a noise as if she had something inside: perhaps some more dolls? or other numbers?

Print the two incipits, fold in half, and insert in the first two envelopes perhaps with a chocolate coin or with what you want!
